"KING DAVID" SCHEDULED FOR SATURDAY

The Biblical tale of "King David" will be put to music in a symphonic psalm in three parts in the Patty Building Saturday (April 25) beginning at 8 p.m.

A part of the Festival of Arts, the program will be directed by Charles W. Davis of the Department of Music and narrated by Lee H. Salisbury, head of the Department of Speech, Radio and Drama, with assistance from Maj-Lis Keskela as the Witch of Endor and Zeno Keeling as the 'Shade' of Samuel.

"King David" was written by Arthur Honegger as a musical score for the drama by Renee Morax. Honegger later revised the score for concert performance with narrators linking the instrumental and choral interludes. In addition to organ, piano and celesta, the accompaniment calls for a colorful variety of wind and percussion instruments.

Other events scheduled for this concluding Festival of Arts weekend include a lecture Friday (April 24) beginning at 8 p.m. in Eielson 120 by Helmut Van Flein, head of the Department of Art, on "Testament of Fear in Modern Art," the movie "Julius Caesar" at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday (April 26) in Schaible Lecture Hall and a performance by the University Collegium Musicum at 5 p.m. Sunday in the Music Facility. Postponed from Thursday (April 16), the Collegium Musicum performance replaces a program by the Alaska Native Dancers. Some native songs will be performed during the evening although no native dancers will perform.

WYATT CO-AUTHORS MUSICAL

A musical production co-authored by Lawrence Wyatt of the Department of English is receiving its premiere at Texas Technological University in Lubbock, Texas this week.

Five performances from April 22-25 of "If This Be Madness," produced in association with the Texas Tech Opera Theatre, culminate nearly two years of effort by Mr. Wyatt and John Gilbert of the Department of Music at Texas Tech. Wyatt wrote the book and collaborated with Gilbert on the lyrics while Gilbert wrote the music for the production.

Described as "an intimate musical in off-broadway style," the two-act play received praise from the opening night audience, according to a telegram from Lubbock to Wyatt. A note of congratulations has been sent to Texas Tech by the College of Arts and Letters.

Based on the Theme of Don Quixote adapted to the modern-day business world, the play may be produced this fall by the Department of Speech, Radio and Drama and the Department of Music at the University.
HADRA, SMITH RECEIVE FELLOWSHIPS

Two members of the Department of Linguistics and Foreign Languages have been awarded National Defense Education grants for graduate study at Fordham University and the University of Washington.

James Hadra, assistant professor of foreign languages, received a $4,700 fellowship for study in the field of Russian linguistics at Fordham. Duncan Smith, instructor, received $4,480 for study in Altaic (central Asia) linguistics at the University of Washington.

Hadra and Smith were selected from 3,300 fellowship applicants. Professor Hadra teaches Spanish, Russian and French. Mr. Smith teaches French and Russian.

Both fellowships are for the coming academic year.

GOVERNOR'S DAY MAY 9

Governor's Day will be held on Friday, May 9, this year instead of May 8 as listed in the University Catalog. A highlight this year will be the dedication of the Engineering Building as the William Elmhirst Duckering Building.

LOST AND FOUND ITEMS ON DISPLAY

Have you lost anything recently—say, like in the last two or three years? The Registrar's Office has accumulated a variety of "Lost and Found" items. During pre-registration, April 22-29, these items will be displayed at the Registrar's Office.

Some of the items have been in "Lost and Found" for one or more years. So, please do check to see if any of the articles belong to you.

Items not claimed will be thrown away or given to a worthy cause.

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS HOLD MEETING

The Associated Women Students will hold a meeting beginning at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday (April 29) in the Engineering Building auditorium. Faculty wives, women faculty members and interested University women are invited to attend.

All caps and gowns must be returned in their box by 4 p.m., Monday, May 25, in order to meet a deadline for their return to the rental company.

CREDIT UNION OPENS NEW OFFICE

The Greater Fairbanks Teachers Federal Credit Union is maintaining an office in the Nerland building from 4:30-6 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. A treasurer and bookkeeper are on hand during those hours to accommodate withdrawals, loan application and deposits.
CONNECTICUT STUDENTS START DRIVE

It was recently noted in a bulletin of the Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges that students at the University of Connecticut have launched a special Alaska Earthquake Fund Drive. Funds collected will be sent to President William R. Wood.

The University of Connecticut student body recently received a husky mascot from the University of Alaska.

SOPHOMORES SCHEDULE BENEFIT SHOW

The sophomore class has scheduled an earthquake benefit performance of their Talent Show. The fast moving production of skits, songs and dance will be presented in the National Guard Armory Friday (April 24) at 8 p.m. Faculty and staff are invited to participate in a hilarious evening, while at the same time contributing towards the earthquake fund.

TALENT WANTED

The All-U-Revue committee is looking for faculty and staff with "talent" who will sing, dance, make music or present a skit for the night of tomfoolery which annually climaxes Campus Day (May 1). Departments are urged to locate hidden talent and sign up with Mike Tinker, student chairman of the All-U-Revue.
