OUR FIRST! HOMECOMING NEXT WEEKEND

Homecomings are always a little special at colleges and universities, and next week there is something extra-special at the University of Alaska campus.

It's the first annual homecoming for alumni of the UA. Almost 1,500 former students around the State have been sent special invitations to attend the planned two-day homecoming celebration set for Friday and Saturday, Jan. 26 and 27.

After this year, university directors of the event hope to continue the homecoming as an annual event.

The featured attraction at the weekend homecoming is the university's two-game basketball series with the University of Hawaii. The games are scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday night in the Patty Gymnasium on campus. Special half-time entertainment and receptions for alumni before and during game intermissions will highlight the basketball series.

A Saturday afternoon homecoming banquet for visiting alumni will be emceed by Bettie Harrop, the UA's head of Alumni Services, and will feature basketball coach Al Svenningson as speaker.

A homecoming dance is also being scheduled for Saturday evening after the second Hawaii game, with music provided by a popular Fairbanks dance band.

Other activities around the university campus through the weekend will also be open to alumni, including a swimming meet set for all day Saturday and the Mid-Winter Invitational, the UA varsity rifle team's biggest Alaska match of the year.

The swimming and diving competition begins at 9 a.m. Saturday and will last all day, with competing teams from Anchorage, Elmendorf Air Force Base, Eielson Air Force Base, Lathrop High School in Fairbanks, and the university.

The UA's top-rated varsity shooting squad, which recently brought back championship honors from the national Kansas State Turkey Shoot competitions, will be shooting against teams from Ft. Richardson, Eielson, Ft. Wainwright and The Tanana Valley Sportsman's Association of Fairbanks, in firing sessions on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

NANOOKS HEAD SOUTH FOR THREE-GAME SERIES

Two new players were along as the UA Nanooks headed south this morning (Thursday) for their third road trip of the season.

Darryl Sele and Dan McHenry, both transfer students at the UA, are now eligible to play with the Nanooks. They will be playing in forward positions during this weekend's two games with Central Washington State College in Ellensburg, Wash., January 19-20, and a January 22 match against St. Martin's College in Olympia, Wash.

Nanook Pat Tielborg, injured in the last game series with Portland State College Jan. 6-7, was not aboard for the Pacific Northwest games, according to Coach Svenningson.

Tielborg suffered a leg injury during the Portland game and will be staying home. He may be out of play for the rest of the season, Svenningson added.

Another player injured in the fast, dramatic Portland State games was Randy Boyd. Boyd has recovered sufficiently to accompany the team.

Svenningson expressed an optimistic outlook for this weekend's games, despite the Nanook's losses so far this season. The last games with Portland found the UA team in the best form this year. In both games, the Nanooks lost by only one point to the fast-moving Washington players. The scores were 79-78 and 68-67.

With a return to form of center Scott Loll and more point scoring by other players, the Nanooks showed more balance in offense than before, Svenningson noted. Also, Loll's rebounding ability will help keep the Alaska offense going.

Following the road trip games with Central Washington and St. Mary's, the Nanooks return to the university's first annual homecoming weekend, for two games January 26-27 against the Rainbows of the University of Hawaii.

The Honolulu team will be making its first visit to Alaska this year, and the two teams will play a return series in Hawaii next year.

SPRING SEMESTER REGISTRATION

Registration for spring semester UA classes will be held Monday, January 22, with regular second semester classes beginning Tuesday morning.

The one-day registration period will last from 8:30 a.m. until 8 p.m. according to Mrs. Ann Tremarello, assistant registrar, and enrolling students can begin the registration cycle in the basement of the Bunnell Building.

CONTINUED

Hours for registration are:

Last Names Beginning A - F.....8:30 - 10:30 a.m.
 Last Names Beginning G - L.....10:30 - 12:30 p.m.
 Last Names Beginning M - R.....1:00 - 3:00 p.m.
 Last Names Beginning S - Z.....3:00 - 5:00 p.m.
 Employed persons and others unable to register as above.....5:00 - 8:00 p.m.

After Monday, a late-registration fee will be charged.

"The registering process should normally take about an hour and a half, but we're encouraging new and returning students to register as early as possible in the day," Mrs. Tremarello added.

"If people wait until evening before starting, there may not be time to complete the process before the 8 p.m. closing time."

A special express registration system is being established for students taking two courses totalling not more than six credit hours, she added. When a student is 21 or older and enrolls for two classes, university regulations permit enrolling as a special student without educational credentials.

The express registration, she pointed out, will take about thirty minutes, and will begin at the Registrar's Office in the Bunnell Building.

FORMER NANOOKS, SPEAK UP!

Coordinators of the University of Alaska's first annual homecoming celebration, set for next Friday and Saturday Jan. 26 and 27, are looking for basketball players from past years now living in the Fairbanks area.

The former UA ball players will be invited out to the weekend featured basketball games between the university and the University of Hawaii, to a special pre-game reception held in their honor, and to sit in a special UA basketball veteran's section during the game itself.

Former basketball players are asked to call the Office of Student Activities on campus, at 479-7294.

ASSIGNMENT, THE WORLD"

National Geographic Photographer Emory Kristof will be on campus Friday January 26. He will speak at a journalism seminar in Room 117 Bunnell, at 3 p.m. Kristof's presentation, "Assignment: The World", will be open to the public. If 117 Bunnell proves too small for the crowd, the seminar will move to Schaible Lecture Hall.

$3,000 DONATED TO SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

A brief letter accompanied a $3,000 check from the National Bank of Alaska, Anchorage. Signed by Elmer Rasmuson, Chairman of the Board of the National Bank of Alaska and also President of the University of Alaska Board of Regents, it stated simply, "This will help supplement the needs which you have pointed out as more pressing than ever as a result of flood disaster in Fairbanks this past year." The $3,000 is donated towards the university's scholarship program.

INTERMEDIATE FOIL FENCING

An eight-week short course in Intermediate Foil Fencing will be offered by the Department of Summer Sessions, Conferences and Short Courses at the University of Alaska beginning on January 27 and ending on March 16. The classes will meet each Saturday afternoon from 2:00 to 4:00 P.M. in the Patty Gymnasium. Enrollment is open to persons fourteen years of age and older, who have had Beginning Foil Fencing or have received the approval of the instructor. Fencing equipment will be provided, but because of a limited supply of equipment, pre-registration is imperative. Registration fee for the course will be $25.00.

For additional information and pre-registration call 479-7292.

SELECTIVE SERVICE FORMS

Students who requested Selective Service forms in the fall do not need to request them again since the forms were completed for the school year rather than for one semester, as in the past. Only those new students, or others who have not requested one previously and need them now, must request a form after having registered for classes. If you can alert your students to this, it will avoid a waste of time for them.

CAMPUS TRAFFIC CHANGE

Martin B. Underwood, Safety and Security Director, has announced that effective Monday January 22, 1968, there will be ONE WAY North bound traffic only on Tanana Street from the corner of Tanana Street and the Harwood Hall Road outbound to the Old Farmers Loop Road. (Ballaine Road)

To enter use Taku Street which will bring you on to Tanana Street from the vicinity of Brooks, Duckering and Forestry Buildings.

If you find this confusing, whip out a campus guide and check over the streets involved, and all will come clear.
