TWENTY-THREE ACADEMIC PROMOTIONS ANNOUNCED

Five faculty members have been promoted to full professor, according to an announcement this week by Dr. William R. Wood, university president.

They are: Dr. Eduard Berg, Dr. Robert C. Haring, William Mendenhall, Raghavaiyengar Parthasarathy and Lee Salisbury.

Dr. Wood also announced the promotion of eighteen faculty members to associate and assistant professor ranks.

Those promoted to associate professor are: Dr. William W. Mitchell, Richard R. Heacock, Dr. Arlon Tussing, Melvin H. Holmgren, Dr. Robert J. Barsdate, Dr. Wolf Hollerbach, Dr. Vernon L. Harms, Dr. Norman J. Birkholz, Dr. J. Roger Sheridan, Dr. Troy G. Sullivan, Dr. Wendell W. Wolfe and Sarkis Atamian.

New assistant professors are: Lee D. Allen, Robert A. Sullivan, Eunice Bailey, Fred Crowell, Lawrence Heiner and Paul McCarthy.

MUSIC RECITAL SCHEDULED TONIGHT

Thirteen students will perform in a music recital at 7:30 tonight (April 6). The recital is sponsored by the Music Department and will be held in the Music Building.

Among the works to be performed are "Concerto for the French Horn" by Strauss, the allegro from the "Violin Concerto in A Minor" by Vivaldi and "Il Mio Tesoro", an aria from the opera "Don Giovanni".

Students appearing in the recital will be: Charles Davis Jr., Martha Joe Roberts, Carl Guilford, Linda Prock, Patricia Clark, Lani Roberts, Pamella Cauley, Mark Hughes, Julio Rymer, Elizabeth Hill, Barbara Willeford, Francoise Berg and Marla Teegardin.

Accompanists for the recital will be Mrs. Sharon Meggers and Jean-Paul Billaud, members of the Music Department faculty.

WATER POLO BATTLE SET FOR FRIDAY

A display of pure, raw "violence" will be presented Friday evening as top university water polo teams stage their first public match.

The game will start at 6 p.m. in the Patty Building pool.

It will have two seven-man teams, each bent on scoring as many points and "drowning" as many opponents as possible.

Coach Joseph Moisan reports the teams are in fine shape and looking forward to the encounter. He said plans are now being finalized for games with a Kiwanis club and an Eielson AFB team later this month.

WESTERN REGION AAUP DIRECTOR TO SPEAK

Dr. Richard H. Peairs, director of the Western Regional Office of the American Association of University Professors, will be guest speaker at an open meeting of the university AAUP chapter Wednesday, April 12.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in Room 201 of the Brooks Memorial Mines Building.

Dr. Peairs will discuss "Faculty Participation in University Governance."

All faculty, administrators and other interested persons are invited to attend.

NURSERY SCHOOL PLANS OPEN HOUSE

The University Nursery School Laboratory will hold an open house and art show Friday, April 14 from 1 to 3 p.m. in Room 321 of the Eielson Building.

Parents and other interested persons are invited to attend.

STATE OFFICIAL TO ADDRESS DATA CLASS

Danial L. O'Leary, director of data processing for Alaska, will visit the campus Thursday, April 13.

O'Leary will conduct a seminar for the Administrative Data Class at 3:30 p.m. in Room 115 of the Bunnell Building. His subject will be "Administrative Data Processing in Juneau".

Anyone interested in speaking with O'Leary during his visit may arrange an appointment with the secretary of the Computer Center.

DR. FELDMAN TO ADDRESS COLLOQUIUM

Dr. Milton H. Feldman, supervisor of physical sciences at the Alaska Water Laboratory, will be guest speaker at the Institute of Arctic Biology's Thursday Colloquium today (April 6).

Dr. Feldman will discuss "Trace Element Research at a Biomedical Institute".

The program will begin at 3:45 p.m. in the BioScience Conference Room.

INSTITUTE SCHEDULES DEVELOPMENT SEMINARS

Current issues in Alaska's social and economic development will be spotlighted in a trio of seminar talks scheduled to begin at 4 p.m. Friday, April 7, in the SUB lounge. The seminars are sponsored by the Institute of Social, Economic and Government Research.

The first discussion will be on the Canadian approach to community development. Jim Lotz of St. Paul University, Ottawa, will be the speaker.

Lotz is professor of anthropology and research director of the Canadian Research Center for Anthropology at St. Paul.

The other two seminars will be led by Dr. Margaret Lantis and Dr. George W. Rogers at 4 p.m. Monday, April 10, and Tuesday, April 11, in the SUB lounge.

Dr. Lantis is professor of anthropology at the University of Kentucky. A well known authority on the Eskimos of Alaska, she is the author of "Eskimo Childhood and Interpersonal Relations." Her topic Monday will be "Eskimo Culture and Alaska's Future".

Dr. Rogers is a research professor of economics for the Institute and the author of "The Future of Alaska" and "Alaska in Transition".

He will discuss "Native Alaska--Human Resources and Economic Opportunities" on Tuesday.

The seminars are open to students, faculty and staff.

SAN FRANCISCO DRAWINGS AT COMMONS

A pre-Fine Arts Festival art exhibition is now on display in the Upper Commons Lounge.

The display, "Drawings from San Francisco", is sponsored by the university Art Department. It includes the works of several Bay area artists.

The exhibition will be open daily through April 14.

METEOROLOGICAL SOCIETY TO MEET

Meteorological satellites will be discussed at the April meeting of the Farthest North Branch of the American Meteorological Society.

Edward Eisle, director of the Gilmore Creek NASA station and Louis Tourville of the new European Space Research Organization (ESRO) station will be speakers. Eisle will discuss "Meteorological Research Satellites" and Tourville will speak on "Operational Meteorological Satellites".

The program will begin at 8:30 p.m. Monday, April 10 in the Fairbanks Inn. A cocktail hour at 6:30 and a dinner at 7:30 will precede the program.

Reservations or further information may be obtained by calling 479-2781 or 479-7369.

HEALTH CENTER SPONSORS BENEFIT SALE

A sale of dishes, house plants and miscellaneous items will be conducted Saturday, April 8, from 9 to 11 a.m. in the Student Health Center, adjacent to Constitution Hall.

Proceeds from the sale will go to the Hillcrest Home for Boys.

GYMNASTIC TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD SATURDAY

A Fairbanks Girls' Open Gymnastic Meet will be held in the Patty Building Gymnasium from 2 to 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

Events include free exercise, balance beam, uneven parallel bars, side horse vaulting, trampoline and tumbling. Compulsory and optional routines will be used.

Participants will be divided into two age groups: Junior Division, 9-12 years old; and Senior Division, 13-19 years old.

Further information may be obtained from Enola Eck or Theresa Tomczak in the Physical Education Department.

UNIVERSITY CARILLON RINGS FORTH

To the delight, surprise and even amazement of campus strollers Wednesday afternoon, the hour of five o'clock was ushered in not only by the usual chimes but a 15-minute concert on the university's James E. Barrack Memorial Carillon.

At the console was Prof. Jean-Paul Billaud who mixed Bach, Mozart and Schumann into a medley that could be heard throughout campus.

Reaction to the concert was a sort of combined "we want more" from the university community.

Prof. Billaud said the 5 p.m. musical interlude would be continued.

Why daily carillon music all of a sudden?

Music lovers can thank Journalism Prof. Gene Donner for wondering why there couldn't be something other than chimes coming out of the water tower public address speakers.

"I was walking across campus one day and the chimes sounded the hour and I wondered, 'what a dull thing this is—boom, boom boom.'" Donner recalled.

The professor started checking, discovered the university had a $10,000 carillon, presented to it by Mrs. James E. Barrack, and that it wasn't being played.

He called Prof. Billaud and suggested:

"Say, Jean-Paul, why don't we use those bells?"

"I'm all in favor," was the quick reply.

At that moment, Donner spotted Dr. William Wood, university president, walking across campus. While still on the phone, Donner dispatched student photographer Frank Sipes to ask the president's reaction.

"A splendid idea," enthused the university's head man. "Why don't we start today."

With this top level approval, the university's first carillon concert since last year's summer music festival quickly got into gear.

At 4:45 p.m., Professors Billaud and Donner, photographer Sipes, journalism student Roy Blackwood and Dr. John Tryon, the university's expert on electronics, gathered in a small room on the first floor of the Eielson Building. They peered at the carillon console and a complicated maze of electronic equipment.

"How does it work," Prof. Billaud asked Dr. Tryon. "I've forgotten."

Dr. Tryon gave Prof. Billaud a 10-minute refresher course and as soon as the hour of five had been sounded on the chimes, Bach, Schumann and Mozart came forth.

The immediate reaction? Students Sipes and Blackwood darted outside and came back with these comments from startled listeners:

"Well, what's going on here?"

"It isn't Christmas, is it?"

"I thought somebody had died."

The most oft-heard comment, however, was: "That sounds great. I hope we have more."

That the campus will have more was promised by Prof. Billaud. In addition to "live" performances, a recorded tape system will be used to operate the carillon.

A collection of compositions that can be transcribed onto tape for use in the carillon system will be sent to a company in California that manufactures the tapes, Billaud said.

Thus, whether it be Billaud, tapes or even phonograph records, 5 p.m. on campus this spring will be a time for music.

Those "Boom, boom, booms" have given way to Bach, Beethoven and Brahms.

FISHERIES CLASS UNDERWAY

A program of instruction in fisheries, sponsored by the Manpower Development Act, is being conducted daily in a basement room of the Commons. The instructor is John Doyle of Fisheries Extension in the Department of Summer Sessions.

Students include native Alaskans and VISTA personnel. Demonstrations in the use of fishing equipment are part of the program. The class will continue through next week.
