

nanook news

vol. xiii/no. 10

march 12, 1970

UNIVERSITY MADRIGAL SINGERS PLAN CONCERT AT 8 P.M. TODAY IN SCHAIBLE

The University Madrigal Singers, will perform at 8 p.m. today in UA's Schaible Auditorium.

The concert is open to the public and will feature music composed in the 15th and 16th centuries. Selections will represent both English and Spanish composers.

Works by Thomas Morley, written for Queen Elizabeth I, will open the program. The compositions were written during the queen's reign but were not published until after her and Morley's death. Among them are "April is in My Mistress' Face" and "My Bonny Lass."

Other English composers for the opening part of the concert include

Thomas Greaves, John Dowland, and John Bennet.

Spanish works by Juan del Ensina and Adriano Banchieri will be in the second part of the program. Williams said several of the Banchieri works are from the "Dinner Music for the Feast of Fat Thursday", a satirical look at church feast days.

The last three works on the program are by Matyas Seiber, a pupil of Bela Bartok, who in later years wrote scores for films. The Madrigal will perform his "Three Hungarian Folk Songs."

Williams said there is a renewal of interest in Madrigal singing being revived. He said the art of madrigal was a social grace of years past much as bridge playing is today.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE TEST APPLICATIONS DUE TO TESTING SERVICE

The deadline for applications to take the Graduate School Foreign Language Test by the Educational Testing Service, Box 519, Princeton, N. J. is April 8.

Bruce Gordon, head of the Department of Foreign Languages and Linguistics, said the test will be given May 2. He said applications would be due to the testing service by April 8.

Gordon said he has advised graduate students of all departments of the testing deadline. Applications blanks and information booklets are available in 220 Eielson. He said the test would also be given on July 18. Results of the Jan. 31 test were to be distributed this week.

MARCH 11 FIRST DAY OF SPRING? IT'S BEEN THAT KIND OF YEAR (SEE PAGE 3)

UA RIFLE TEAM FIFTH IN SILVER STATE SHOOT

The University placed its two rifle teams among the top seven at the Silver State Invitational Shoot over the weekend at Reno, Nev. The shoot was hosted by the University of Nevada.

The Nanooks, coached by Sgt. Jose Maanao, placed their Blue team fifth and the Gold team seventh. The Blue team consists of Randy Pitney, Marcy Young, John Wood, Larry Smith and Barbara DeSpain. Gold team members are Gary Brooks, Mike Doxey, Chris Allen, Peggy Bixby and Pat McGlinchy.

Pitney, Young and Brooks all fired 551s to lead the Nanooks. Wood fired a 548, Allen 546, Smith 536, Bixby and DeSpain 530, and McGlinchy 526.

The Blue team fired an aggregate 2716 and the Gold team 2702. The UA Blue tied San Jose State College of California for the fifth spot, however, was awarded the position on the basis of outshooting the Spartans 973-962 in the prone position. San Jose dropped to sixth one notch ahead of the UA Gold.

The University of Wyoming and University of Montana tied for team honors with 2737s, however, the Cowboys from Laramie were given the title on the basis of outshooting the Grizzlies 968-967 in the prone position.

Eastern Washington State College finished third with a 2729 and UCLA was fourth at 2725. The University of Nevada's No. 1 team was eighth with a 2678, Oregon State University's No. 1 team ninth at 2582 and the University of California at Berkeley rounded out the top 10 with a 2581 total.

A total of 26 teams took part in the competition.

Industry Seeks 3,500

KETCHIKAN COMMUNITY COLLEGE LOGGING COURSE UNDER WAY

A logger training course began March 9 at the Ketchikan Community College. It will train 20 entry level workers for the Alaska logging industry.

Funded under the Manpower Development and Training Act, the course was developed by the Division of Vocational and Adult Education and will provide preliminary orientation and training to unemployed and underemployed Alaskans.

The course program will include demonstrations, conferences, and extensive field training. When employed the entry loggers will receive advanced training from the employer. It is estimated that 3,500 loggers will be needed by the industry in 1975.

Money received from the sale of logs processed during training will be returned to the Ketchikan Gateway Borough School District and used to support future logger training programs.

KUAC SLATED FOR NATIONAL NETWORK BROADCAST THROUGH CPB

The University's student radio station, KUAC-FM, is scheduled to take part in the Corporation for Public Broadcasting's national network of educational stations.

KUAC Station Manager Sue Pittman said recently that the CPB is planning a daily two-hour program for 73 stations which will participate in the National Public Radio Network to begin next summer.

Miss Pittman said she received confirmation from Al Hulsen of the CPB that it plans to include KUAC in the network.

MELANGE NOOK

Assembled by Dean Wariner

LOWELL ANAGICH, treasurer of the Unalakleet Parent-Teacher Association, recently forwarded a $100 gift to the University for donation to the Beltz Memorial Fund.

* * *

THOMAS KELLY, commissioner of Natural Resources for the state, will speak on campus March 25 at 1 p.m. on "Development and Conservation: Compatible or Incompatible." The talk is part of a two-day visit to Fairbanks by Kelly in which he will tour the campus and speak before the Greater Fairbanks Chamber of Commerce.

* * *

THE REV. RENE ASTRUC, principal of St. Mary's High School, was on campus today with 25 of his senior students who are visiting the campus. The students were scheduled to perform Eskimo dances in Schaible Auditorium last night.

* * *

IF YOU think you might want to build a log house, a new course offered by the Division of Statewide Services might help. Starting March 15, Statewide Services will offer a five-session course on log cabin and house construction. Fee for the course is a mere $6 and you may register by telephoning ext. 7295. The class will meet from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on March 25, 31, April 8, 22, and 29.

* * *

DR. ARTHUR BUSWELL, vice president of Public Service, says some people don't know his new phone number since he moved to 104 Bunnell. His 479-7272.

* * *

AH SWEET SPRING, when a young man's fancy turns to love--providing his wife isn't watching, of course. We declare yesterday as the first official day of breakup. It was that kind of day--sunny, warm, melting--even though spring doesn't start officially until March 21.

* * *

TERENCE ARMSTRONG, visiting professor of geography at the Institute of Social, Economic, and Government Research, will start on a series of lectures at 3 p.m. March 24 in 318 Duckering on "Soviet and North American Parallels and Contrasts in Northern Development." The first lecture will be on "Soviet North: Some Recent Developments." The series is open to the public. Armstrong is a professor of geography at the Scott Polar Institute, Cambridge University.

* * *

JOE KEENAN, director of the state Division of Lands, Anchorage, and Curtis McVee, assistant director of the Bureau of Land Management, Anchorage, will speak at a seminar from 4 to 6 p.m. today in 205 Bunnell on "Land Use in Alaska." The seminar is open to the public.

* * *

THE UNIVERSITY MUSEUM continues to dominate the campus as a stopping point for visitors. In the museum's annual visitor's report recently it was noted that the number of visitors jumped by more than 2,000 from 1968 to 1969. Last year there were 52,762 visitors. The heaviest month was July when 13,297 persons stopped at the museum. There were more visitors from California than any other state. In fact 6,230 Californians visited the museum last year. There were 6,196 Alaskans who visited the museum.

* * *

JIM LUDWIG, community affairs director of KUAC, returned to the campus this week after a successful trip East with 3 boys from rural Alaska who took part in the "Pin Project."

* * *

TEACHERS CREDIT UNION SETS ANNUAL MEETING FOR MARCH 13

The Greater Fairbanks Teachers Federal Credit Union will have its annual meeting-party Friday, March 13, at Club 11. Dinner will be at 7:30 p.m. Charge is $5. Reservations may be made by contacting the Credit Union office 456-6972 between 11 and 6 p.m.

The Credit union, which acts as a savings and loan for teachers, is also offering 29 CUNA International (formerly Credit Union National Assn.) tours for members.

The low budget tours for 1970 include 29 tours to eight different regions of the world. Each lasts from 3 to 43 days and includes transportation, hotels and sightseeing. Most also include meals.

For as little as $54 credit union members can cruise the Ohio and Mississippi rivers for three days and for as much as $2,298 they can spend 43 days circling the globe with stops at Egypt, Lebanon, Israel, India, Cambodia, Hong Kong, Japan and Hawaii. Other tours include the Caribbean, South America, West Africa, the Balkans, Alaska, Western Europe and many more.

Also being offered is a theater holiday in London, the Russian Winter Festival and the Expo '70 in Japan. Low cost tours are made possible through CUNA because it is part owner of the American Travel Association, a travel cooperative.

More details are available at the Greater Fairbanks Teachers Credit Union, room 105, Fairbanks International Airport.

KUAC (Cont'd from page 2)

She said there had been some doubt as to whether the CPB could afford line charges from Alaska to hook up with the network. Programs would be on public affairs and KUAC would plan to produce one program every two weeks.

ISEGR REPORT SURVEYS FAIRBANKS ECONOMY FROM GOLD RUSH TO OIL

The growth of Fairbanks' economy from the gold of Pedro Creek to the oil fields of the North Slope is traced in a report by the Institute of Social, Economic, and Government Research.

The report "Review of Business and Economic Conditions" follows the economic changes since 1902 and summarizes the city's economic picture during 1968.

A continued surge in development and employment is forecast in the report during the construction of the Trans Alaska Pipeline. The report goes on to say, "After completion of the pipeline construction, it is possible that the rapid escalation of the Fairbanks economy will level off."

Although property taxes are a continuing controversy the report shows that the tax in Fairbanks is considerably lower than the tax rate of many cities in other states. The report says, however, that "high sales tax rates--which add to food costs and other necessities of life--place a disproportionate burden upon low income families in Fairbanks."

Nanook News, the faculty-staff bulletin of the University of Alaska, is published each Thursday during the academic year by the News Service Department, 108 Bunnell, phone 479-7581, Dean Wariner, editor; Eddi Parker, contributor; Genie Langhorne, production assistant. All media may quote and reprint without permission.