Tuxedo Junction's Some Enchanted Evening set for Saturday, Nov. 3

Brush off the ol' top hat and those dancin' shoes, the fundraising voyage aboard the S.S. Tuxedo Junction will get underway Saturday night, Nov. 3, at 8 p.m. at Centennial Hall. The theme for this year's UAS scholarship fundraiser is Some Enchanted Evening from South Pacific. Centennial Hall will be transformed into a cruise ship ballroom with a lavish floor show, casinos, prizes, music and dancing. A trip for two to Mexico will be the door prize, courtesy of Alaska Airlines. Tickets are $35 general admission, $25 for students with 9 credits or more, and $45 at the door. Reserved seating tickets will again be available this year at $20 each.

Tickets will be on sale Monday, Oct. 15, at the Bill Ray Center from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.; Saturday, Oct. 20, at the Nugget Mall; and Oct. 16, through Nov. 2, at the UAS Cashier in the Mourant Building. Thirty volunteers are needed to deal in the casinos so if

Benefits Fair next week

The UAS Office of Personnel is holding a Benefits Fair on Thursday, Oct. 11 from noon to 3 p.m. in the Hendrickson Building Room 205/206. UAS faculty and staff will have a chance to meet with representatives to find out more about the benefits available to employees. For more information about the fair call Personnel at 789-4536. A phone line will be available for Ketchikan and Sitka campuses to call in order to audioconference.

The Time of Your Life

Tomorrow at 1 p.m. at the Student Housing Lodge you can hear Will Keim, a nationally known speaker who is said to have a unique ability to convey a serious and important message to students. Sponsored by UAS Student Government, Keim will give one of his more popular talks "Welcome to the Time of Your Life." He will address the issues of drug and alcohol abuse, sexuality, and taking advantage of educational opportunities. Keim's background is in education (he was awarded Outstanding Professor of the Year for 1985-86 at Oregon State University), resident life and the ministry. He now travels to college and universities all over the nation speaking to students about the issues they face.

NEWS BRIEFS

Regents to meet next month

The next meeting of the UA Board of Regents is scheduled for Nov. 1 and 2 in Fairbanks at the UAF campus. The meetings are open to the public.

Welcome to new Juneau campus council members

New members to the UAS Juneau Campus Council are Bob Martin, General Manager, Tlingit Haida Regional Electric Authority; Peggy Ann McConnochie, Broker, Alaska Coastal Homes; and Win Gruening, Vice President, Key Bank of Alaska. They replace Ed Thomas, Errol Champion, and Bill Corbus whose terms have expired. A warm welcome to the new members and a special thankyou to those who gave so generously of their time and talents over the course of many years.

Estate Planning is focus

Jim York will again present information on family estate planning, wills, and trusts as a service to the community on Sunday, Oct. 14 and Monday, Oct. 15 at the Bill Ray Center Room 152/153.

Sponsored by the the UA Foundation and UAS, York's schedule looks like this:

you've been wanting to get involved, here's your chance. Call Bruce, ext. 461; Tish, ext. 529, or Greg, ext. 550 to sign up. There will be an Oct. 30 training session and you will receive a free pass in exchange for a couple of hours of dealing at Tuxedo Junction.

Recycling at UAS

UAS made an institutional commitment to recycling last April with an Earth Day Proclamation. Permanent recycling sites have recently been installed at the Juneau campus and newly hired Student Recycling Coordinator, John Maniscalco, will work 20 hours each week collecting paper and aluminum from the sites. Comments and suggestions for John should be made through the UAS Physical Plant. Call 789-4496.

John Maniscalco, UAS Recycling Coordinator

Fractal Fair on Oct. 27

What's a fractal? A fractal is a species of mathematical equation that can be used to describe such things as lightening, clouds, noise, population dynamics, price fluctuations, ferns, or satellite photographs of a planet. Fractals are particularly good for describing complex surfaces or dynamic systems and are a common organizing principle in nature and the sciences. So what, you say? The UAS Computer Center and UAS Media Services will host a Fractal Fair on Saturday, Oct. 27 to demonstrate the various techniques of generating and displaying fractal images using computers, videotape, and silk screen printing methods. These math concepts, when viewed via these methods have a beauty and intrigue of their own. The fair will be from 1 - 5 p.m. on the lower floor of the UAS Egan Library. Everyone is invited to attend. Call 789-4483 for info.

Deadline for Fulbright proposals is Nov. 1

Opportunities for colleges and universities to host a visiting scholar from abroad for all or part of the 1991-92 academic year are available through the Fulbright Scholar-in-Residence Program. Institutions are invited to submit proposals for visiting scholars in the humanities and social sciences who may teach regular courses from a foreign perspective, serve as a resource person in interdisciplinary courses, assist in developing new courses, or participate in special seminars. For more information call Information Services at 789-4530. The deadline for proposals is Nov. 1, 1990.

Joint project holds promise of student opportunity

UAS part-time lecturer Alexander Dolitsky in his capacity as director of the newly formed Alaska-Siberia Research Center has been invited by the Soviet Academy of Sciences to participate in archaeological research in the Altay mountains and on Lake Baikal in the USSR. The Juneau-based Center, an independent, nonprofit organization affiliated with the Academy of Sciences in Novosibirsk, has signed tentative agreements with several Soviet institutions. It has been agreed that 15-20 Alaskan researchers will visit archaeological sites and aboriginal communities in the Lake Baikal area for 20-25 days this next summer. If you are interested call the Center by Dec. 1, 789-3854, or write AKSRC, P.O. Box 34871, Juneau, AK 99803.

Roundup Pledge Drive nets nearly $28,000

Nearly $28,000 was raised during the second annual Southeast Roundup this year, a fundraiser that involves the local media, business community and UAS. This year's money will allow UAS to offer six scholarships for the 1991-92 school year to Southeast High School students. Last year six scholarships were awarded with the $32,000 raised, $12,000 of which was placed in an endowed scholarship fund that will eventually generate enough interest to support six scholarships each year.

UAF and UAA Self-Studies available

Institutional Self-Studies of UAA and UAF are available in the Chancellor's Office, Academic Affairs and the Egan Library.
