KRMCC RENOVATION UPDATE

The first phase of renovation on the KRMCC is complete! The displaced KRMCC employees have moved back to the building. Here's where to find folks in their spiffy new digs:

104 – Abby Kosmos	106 – Kim Hodne
107 – Adjunct Office	109 – Joe Lefleur
111 – Mariah Warren	112 – Larry O'Loane
113 – Claire Fine	114 – Gary Freitag

Ken Horn will remain in the Ziegler Building until completion of the second phase of construction, which includes the welding lab.

Due to room reconfigurations from the remodeling process, the GED program has been permanently relocated to the upper campus and will be held in Paul 103. Christie Willett is taking this academic year off, so Barbarba Morgan is stepping in to do the GED prep.

IN CASE OF EMERGENCY

A reminder as we start off the new year: UAS has an alert system to be used in the unlikely event that an emergency should arise such as active attack, a hazardous material release, or a natural disaster. Based on the latest best-practices in emergency response, the system seeks to empower the campus community. Any member of the campus community witnessing an emergency can trigger a campus-wide alert response from any telephone.

In An Emergency:

1. Take immediate action to ensure safety

The appropriate action will depend on the nature of the emergency, your location, and the resources available to you at the time. As a member of the UAS community, you are entrusted and empowered to take action using your best judgement. Possible actions might include evacuation, barricading, or countering the threat.

2. Notify emergency services (dial 911)

The Ketchikan campus receives emergency services such as police and fire protection from the City and Borough of Ketchikan. By calling 911 immediately, you can ensure that appropriate assistance is on the way. Should lines be jammed in an actual emergency, continue to call until you are able to successfully reach dispatch.

3. Broadcast a Ketchikan Campus Alert (dial 4500) – if it is safe to do so

A Ketchikan Campus alert can be triggered by anyone by dialing 4500 from any campus phone. From a cell-phone, dial 228-4500 and enter the access code 54321#. You will be prompted to record a message. Focus on using plain and specific language. Once your message has been recorded, a campus wide alert will be broadcast using the speakers on campus phones.
