Purpose of the Survey

Every human being has the right to be safe and free from violence in their own homes, in their relationships, and in their community. Intimate partner violence and sexual violence are endemic problems. Up until now, regional data were not available to guide planning and policy development or to evaluate the impact of prevention and intervention services. This study provides the first definitive measures of intimate partner violence and sexual violence for the Aleutian/Pribilof Island region. The survey was designed to establish a baseline for the Aleutian/Pribilof Island region. Results can be used to support prevention and intervention efforts that reduce violence against women.

Methodology

A total of 120 adult women in the Aleutians West Census Area and the Aleutians East Borough participated in the survey. Respondents were randomly selected by phone (using both land lines and cell phones) from April to June 2014 and from May to August 2015. Respondents were asked behaviorally specific questions about intimate partner violence (both threats and physical violence). Intimate partners included romantic and sexual partners. Respondents were also asked about sexual violence (both alcohol or drug involved sexual assault and forcible sexual assault). These questions were not limited to intimate partners. Procedures were designed to maximize the safety and confidentiality of all respondents. The survey was approved by multiple institutional review boards and was supported by Unalaskans Against Sexual Assault and Family Violence (USAFV).

Acknowledgments

We sincerely thank the 120 adult women in the Aleutian/Pribilof Island region who invested time and effort to participate in the Alaska victimization survey. They re-lived horrendous experiences, experiences that no one should be subjected to, to help the rest of us understand the extent of intimate partner and sexual violence in the Aleutian/Pribilof Island region. We also thank Unalaskans Against Sexual Assault and Family Violence. Funding for this project was provided by the Alaska Council on Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault. The survey was administered by RTI International. Data were analyzed by the UAA Justice Center.

Intimate Partner Violence and Sexual Violence in the Aleutian/Pribilof Island Region: Key Results from the 2014-15 Alaska Victimization Surveys

Key Estimates

The following table shows the percentage and number of adult women in the Aleutian/Pribilof Island region who experienced each form of violence. All estimates were weighted to control for selection, non-response, and coverage.

Estimates show that 44.8% of adult women in the Aleutian/Pribilof Island region (or 1,076) experienced sexual violence, intimate partner violence, or both, in their lifetime.

Measures of Violence	Lifetime
	%	N
Intimate partner violence (composite)	42.7%	1,028
Threats of physical violence	34.3%	826
Physical violence	42.7%	1,028
Sexual violence (composite)	24.3%	585
Alcohol or drug involved sexual assault	14.4%	345
Forcible sexual assault	16.6%	398
Any Violence (composite)	44.8%	1,076

Intimate Partner Violence Estimates:

The intimate partner violence composite includes both threats of physical violence and physical violence.

- 42.7% of adult women (or 1,028) experienced intimate partner violence in their lifetime, with:
 - 34.3% (or 826) experiencing threats of physical violence, and
 - 42.7% (or 1,028) experiencing physical violence.

Sexual Violence Estimates:

The sexual violence composite includes both alcohol or drug involved sexual assault and forcible sexual assault.

- 24.3% of adult women (or 585) experienced sexual violence in their lifetime, with:
 - 14.4% (or 345) experiencing at least one alcohol or drug involved sexual assault, and
 - 16.6% (or 398) experiencing at least one forcible sexual assault.

Important Limitations

The survey excluded non-English speaking women, women without phone access, and women not living in a residence. Only 5% of the women in Aleutian/Pribilof Island region were surveyed. Estimates may be higher among women excluded from the survey. Estimates may also be conservative because of the continuing stigma of reporting victimization. This survey measured the number of victims, not the number of victimizations. In addition, not all forms of intimate partner violence or sexual violence were measured. All of these limitations may vary across regions. As a result, the validity of regional comparisons remains unknown.
