

Egan Library

What's New at the University of Alaska Southeast William A. Egan Library

New Pacific Northwest Coast Art Brochures

A revised, colorful new edition of the Egan Library's Northwest Coast Native Art Collection, including entries for the outdoor Eagle and Raven totems, is now available in the library. The Egan Library spearheaded this project and received editorial assistance from staff, faculty, Wooch.een students and the artists who are represented. The collection was photographed by Ron Klein and Alison Caputo designed the booklet. New sections include a bibliography and short bios of the artists. Stop by and take a self-guided tour of the Egan Library's Native Art Collection.

New Wall Mounted Big Screen HDTVs

Study Rooms 212 and 113 now have 42 inch HDTVs for student use. These monitors can be used collaboratively for practicing group PowerPoint presentations or for watching DVDs. HDMI cables can be checked out from the Circulation Desk.

Sound Dampening added to 5 Study Rooms

In response to student feedback from course evaluation forms, the Egan Library has added soundproofing to 5 study rooms on the main floor of the library, helping to reduce noise in these study areas.

Egan Library Open House

We are excited to announce our third annual Open House for students which will be held at the Egan Library on Wednesday September 21, 2011 from 10am to 6pm.

This event gives students the chance to meet library faculty and staff while learning about the resources and services we offer in a fun environment.

Students are issued a library "passport" and receive stamps at all 8 library stations in order to be entered for the grand prize, a $150 gift certificate to the UAS bookstore. Stations include brief interactive games teaching the use of library resources like ebooks and interlibrary loan as well as information literacy skills such as evaluating and properly citing resources used in research.

Please consider offering your students an incentive such as extra credit, for participating!

Changes to Departmental Copy Cards

Due to high administrative costs, faculty and staff will no longer be able to check out departmental photocopy cards at the library's Circulation Desk. Beginning in Sept., authorized users will need to get a prepaid card issued to them from their departmental administrative assistant. For questions or concerns call Elise @ x6467.

6 New Student Computer Workstations

The library has added 6 new student computer workstations in the library. These computers will have the full suite of computer software and are accessible with a UA username and password.

Scan Directly to Email in the Library

The library has 2 new scanners. One is designed to scan microfilm documents directly to email, and the other scanner allows you to scan print documents directly to email. Students and faculty will be able to transfer docs as PDFs to book readers.

Increase in Accessible Electrical Outlets

New electrical outlets have been added under tables on the main floor of the library to provide students with additional locations to plug in laptops and other devices.

Changes to Egan's Academic Resources

- UAS joined a consortial deal with UAF and UAA for 25 Annual Review publications.
- UAS joined a consortial deal with UAF and UAA for 1600 Springer ejournals and 1500 Springer ebooks.
- Transitioned 20 databases from the OCLC Firstsearch platform to new vendors because OCLC is transitioning out of hosting content.

Help the Library with Collection Development

Did you know that helping the library make decisions about which resources to purchase and retain counts as service credit toward tenure and promotion? The library is allocating funds to develop the collection to support courses being taught by new faculty; recommendations from all faculty are always welcome!

What time is it? New Synchronized Clocks

New wall mounted clocks in the Egan Library, Learning and Testing Center, Media Classroom, and Think Tank are now synchronized with the clocks in the Egan Classroom Wing.

Broadcast Room for Student Radio Show

The small room under the staircase on the lower floor of the library has been transformed into a recording studio for the student radio program and other media projects.

Follow Egan Library on Facebook & Twitter!

New Floor Seating Available in the Library

There are 5 new BackJack chairs available in Egan. Find a quiet sunny spot and take a comfy floor chair with you! Located on the lower level under the stairs.

Library's Faculty Resources Page

<http://www.uas.alaska.edu/library/faculty>

- Order library materials for your courses
- Set up library workshops for your students
- Find course reserves information
- Learn about new collections and trials
- Set up an RSS feed for library news or download one of several library research tools

Remember to contact your librarian liaison!

Jennifer Ward,
School of Education, 796-6285
jennifer.ward@uas.alaska.edu

Caroline Hassler, Social Sciences and School of Management, 796-6345
caroline.hassler@uas.alaska.edu

Wendy Girven, Natural Sciences and Career Education, 796-6515
wendy.girven@uas.alaska.edu

Tracy Leithauser,
Humanities, 796-6440
tracy.leithauser@uas.alaska.edu

