Selected Results From Local Evaluation of Reclaiming Futures Anchorage, AK

April 2007

Evaluation Committee:
Barb Henjum, Chair
Karin Schaff, Treatment Fellow
Linda Moffitt, Justice Fellow
Thomas S. Begich, Project Director
André B. Rosay¹, University of Alaska Anchorage

1 – Corresponding Author; University of Alaska Anchorage Justice Center; 907-786-1821; afabr@uaa.alaska.edu

http://justice.uaa.alaska.edu
Percentage of Youth...

- 83% With Strength-Based Plans
- 89% With Goals Specific to Youth
- 19% With Natural Helpers
- 99% In Evidence-Based Programs
- 85% Who Engaged in Treatment

http://justice.uaa.alaska.edu
Youth were over two times more likely to complete treatment if their individual service plan was strength-based.
Youth were over nine times more likely to complete treatment if their individual service plan had goals specific to youth.
Youth were 52% more likely to complete treatment if they had a natural helper.
Youth were over two times more likely to complete treatment if they engaged in at least 3 contacts within 30 days.

- 24% of youth who engaged in 3+ contacts within 30 days completed treatment.
- 54% of youth who did not engage in 3+ contacts within 30 days completed treatment.

http://justice.uaa.alaska.edu
For Additional Information about Reclaiming Futures:

• National Program Office: http://www.reclaimingfutures.org

• Anchorage Site: http://www.reclaimingfuturesanc.org